

TITLE IX & EQUITY REPORTING OPTIONS

Campus resources are available in the event that you or someone you know experiences discrimination, harassment, and retaliation based on protected characteristics. This includes sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, sexual exploitation, dating or domestic violence, stalking, or any other protected characteristics. Students, staff, and faculty have the option to make a report to:

1 On-Campus

Title IX & Equity Office

Contact the Title IX and Equity Office for supportive measures such as academic accommodation and a No-Contact Order. The Title IX and Equity Office is also available should you choose to initiate a Formal Resolution process that involves an investigation. If you request a meeting with this Office, you will not be obligated to pursue any action; the purpose of the meeting is to ensure you know your rights and available options.
